Dear Paul,

Unfortunately, Santa Buckley Energy Inc. is withdrawing both the Diesel bid and the Unleaded Gasoline bid. As discussed, the calculations made on the fixed price portions of the bids were based on NYMEX's (RBOB & HO) monthly contracts. This was an oversight, and we will not be able to perform based on the January 2018 contract only.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to working with you and the Lower Pioneer Valley Educational Collaborative on future bids.

Sincerely,

Bryan O'Connor

Roberts Energy, Financial Narrative for LPVEC Bid

Roberts Energy is a Massachusetts based limited liability company, headquartered in Springfield, MA. The business was incorporated in August of 2016 and operational on November 1st, 2016. In late 2016, F.L. Roberts & Co., Inc. divested its retail assets including its gas stations, car washes, and Jiffy Lubes, in order to facilitate the retirement of its majority shareholder, Steven Roberts. Frank Roberts, great-grandson of the founder, purchased the remaining wholesale, commercial fuel, and transportation businesses. The business was spun off into two entities: Roberts Energy, LLC a fuel supplier, and Brown Bear Transportation, LLC, a common carrier of motor fuels and heating fuels.

Roberts Energy, LLC currently supplies over 500 commercial customers in five states, including portions of the current LPVEC bid. The company is a shipper on the Jetline, a pipeline owned by Buckeye Pipeline, that ships fuel from New Haven harbor, up to its terminus at Westover ARB. The company also owns and manages a terminal in Springfield, MA, with storage capacity of 40,000 barrels, and distributes diesel fuel, dyed diesel fuel, heating oils, as well as kerosene, premium and winter blends of all products. It operates its own truck fleet with a combined 15 trucks, and 30 drivers (between the two entities).

The company maintains supply relationships with most major suppliers, and has a multitude of supply deals in place that include index deals, rack deals, spot purchases, and fixed forward contracts. Roberts Energy maintains its own commodities account with R.J. O'Brien for the specific purpose of hedging inventory that is in tank or in transit, and securing fixed-price forward contracts for its customers. The account is active and in good standing, and trading occurs on a daily basis.

From a financial standpoint, the company has very little debt. There is no senior term debt on the business, and the assets were purchased with a combination of equity from the principal and subordinated debt from the principal and other members of the Roberts Family. The company also secured, for a 3-year term, an asset-based line of credit with People's United Business Capital for $5,000,000, and a $500,000 line of credit for capital expenditures. The purpose of the credit line is to finance the working capital and inventory required to run a commodity-based business of its size, and People's United was selected as the lender for the experience and expertise in financing similar businesses.

While no full year results are available, the wholesale division within F.L. Roberts earned approximately $2,000,000 of EBITDA in 2015 and 2016, and the company expects to continue those results in 2017. The company employs 40 people, and anticipates selling 75 million gallons in 2017.
